CMA APPEAL

The month of November is vocations' awareness month. Pray for more vocations from our parish. Our parish has been a seed bed for many vocations in the past. It can still happen today. Talk to the young people of parish and of your own family. Our God is a God of surprises.

These vocation programs are supported by the Catholic Ministries Appeal. So, whether it is supporting the Vocations Office through giving generously to this year's CMA or by promoting vocations in the parish with other endeavors, we are beginning to make progress in our giving. We shall publish the received figures next week.

NOVENA

Spiritual Opportunity - Pray the St. Andrew Advent/Christmas Novena

During the season of Advent you are invited to join Pastoral Council members and fellow parishioners to pray the St. Andrew Novena. The St. Andrew Novena is an ancient Christmas anticipation prayer which begins November 30th and ends on Christmas Eve. It is a short prayer, easily memorized and should be recited 15 times(!) daily, in honor of the 15 promises in the Gospel of St. Matthew made to faithful Christians. You may recite the prayer 5 times at a time, for example, 5 times at Morning Prayer, 5 times at Noon, or at a mealtime, then again 5 times at Evening Prayer. It is believed that whoever reverently recites the St. Andrew Christmas novena prayer FIFTEEN times each day from the feast of St. Andrew (November 30th) until Christmas Eve will obtain the favor requested. Please join us in praying the St. Andrew prayer during Advent: Hail, and blessed be the hour and moment at which the Son of God was born of the most pure Virgin Mary, at midnight, in Bethlehem in piercing cold. In that hour vouchsafe, O my God, to hear my prayers and grant my desires. (mention your intentions here). Through the merits of Our Savior Jesus Christ and of His most Blessed Mother. Amen.

YOUTH AND FAMILY CORNER

NCYC HERE WE COME

This Wednesday, November 20th, teens and chaperones from Immaculate Conception depart for our pilgrimage to the National Catholic Youth Conference in Indianapolis, IN. NCYC is a bi-annual conference that draws 20,000 Catholic teens and over 5000 chaperones from all over the country for prayer, adoration, worship, workshops, and service opportunities to help young people learn and grow in their Catholic faith. This year's theme is "Blessed, Broken, Given."

You can join us in experiencing NCYC too as the morning and evening general sessions will be live streamed for families and teens who could not physically attend. Those sessions begin at 8:00 a.m. and 8:00 p.m. There will also be other times throughout the day for virtual workshops, and interviews. The link has not been released yet, however, we will publish the link on the homepage of our parish website, on our Facebook page and also through our parish app. We hope you can join us and please keep us in prayer.

THIRTY-THIRD SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

Love this world—lightly

Visit the Great Wall of China. Marvel at the Coliseum in Rome. Pray at the Western Wall in Jerusalem. Walk like an Egyptian in the shadow of the Great Sphinx of Giza. Thrill to an adventure in search of Mayan temples in the Yucatan. What you discover at each of these astonishing sites are the ruins of former kingdoms and lost greatness. Such structures are mysterious and compelling, awe-inspiring and a little sad. As the church year winds down and our readings turn apocalyptic, we're reminded that only three things last: faith, hope, and love. Invest in these!

TODAY'S READINGS: Malachi 3:19-20a; 2 Thessalonians 3:7-12; Luke 21:5-19 (159). "The days will come when there will not be left a stone upon another stone."

MEMORIAL OF ROSE PHILIPPINE DUCHESNE

If at first you don't succeed

As a child in France, Rose Philippine Duchesne (1769-1852) watched her mother care for the poor and heard travelers tell stories of the "New World." It's not impossible to think that when Rose joined the sisters of the Society of the Sacred Heart, she had hopes of serving the poor in faraway lands. In 1818, after years of teaching in France, Rose and four other sisters were sent to answer a bishop's request for assistance in his vast Louisiana territory. From New Orleans, the sisters were missioned to Missouri to establish schools. By the time Rose got to Sugar Creek, Kansas in 1841 to open a school for Potawatomie girls, she was 72 and her primary ministry became one of prayer. Indeed, the people she served called her the "woman who prays always." Saint Rose, help us imitate your perseverance and care for the poor.

TODAY'S READINGS: 1 Maccabees 1:10-15, 41-43, 54-57, 62-63; Luke 18:35-43 (497). "I want to see."

Tuesday, Nov 19, 2019

Man up!

Some say it's a man's world, but it isn't. It belongs to God. However, today is International Men's Day. It's part of "Movember," when men grow a "mo" (mustache) to draw attention to male health issues, including emotional health. For men, the Good News offers an invitation to heal the emotional wounds of the past; address anger, violence, and abusive domination; deal with relationship dysfunction and grow into wholesome, kind, and holy individuals. Today join with men everywhere to welcome the Son of Man who came to save us all.

TODAY'S READINGS: 2 Maccabees 6:18-31; Luke 19:1-10 (498). "For the Son of Man has come to seek and to save what was lost."

Be mindful of your daily bread

Why do religious traditions usually include dietary laws or restrictions, as well as periods of fasting and abstinence? Perhaps it has something to do with remembering "who we are." Nothing is more ordinary and everyday than eating (although for many in the world, sadly, it can be a struggle to find anything to eat). Alongside the church's guidelines on fasting and abstinence during the Lenten season, look for a way every week to incorporate some dietary practice of your own choosing that helps you remember your relationship of dependence on the Creator for your nourishment—both physical and spiritual.

TODAY'S READINGS: 2 Maccabees 7:1, 20-31; Luke 19:11-28 (499).

"[They] were arrested and tortured . . . to force them to eat pork in violation of God's law."

MEMORIAL OF THE PRESENTATION OF THE BLESSED VIRGIN MARY

From generation to generation

Today we celebrate the Memorial of the Presentation of the Blessed Virgin Mary, a moment to recognize Mary's great faith and its link to her parents' deep faith. Church tradition has it that Mary's parents, Joachim and Anne, brought her to the temple at age 3 to be dedicated to God. This acknowledgement that faith is passed from one generation to the next is something many modern Catholics also understand. Is that true for you? Consider thanking a family member who inspires and encourages your faith.

TODAY'S READINGS: 1 Maccabees 2:15-29; Luke 19:41-44 (500). "If this day you only knew what makes for peace."

MEMORIAL OF CECILIA, VIRGIN, MARTYR

Cecilia, you're breaking my heart

Saint Cecilia, patron of musicians, has been inspiring artists and seekers for centuries—from the Baroque composer Handel to today's music and songwriting legend Paul Simon. Saint Cecilia's association with music comes from a story recounting how her heart overflowed in song to God, even during a particularly difficult time in her life. What a witness to the power of love! In "Anthem for Saint Cecilia's Day," poet W.H. Auden calls upon Saint Cecilia with the words: "Blessed Cecilia, appear in visions / To all musicians, appear and inspire: / Translated Daughter, come down and startle / Composing mortals with immortal fire." What endeavor in your life are you being inspired to "compose" with "immortal fire"?

TODAY'S READINGS: 1 Maccabees 4:36-37, 52-59; Luke 19:45-48 (501). "On that very day the sanctuary was reconsecrated with songs, harps, flutes, and cymbals."

Saturday, Nov 23, 2019

BLESSED MIGUEL AGUSTÍN PRO, PRIEST, MARTYR; BLESSED VIRGIN MARY

A drama of faith

The Sadducees, who say there is no Resurrection" wouldn't have known what to do with Blessed Miguel Pro. During a period of harsh persecution of the Catholic Church in Mexico in the 1920s, this Jesuit disguised himself cleverly (as a cop, for instance, bringing Eucharist to prisoners in jail). His underground ministry evoked the irreverent humor and daring he'd exhibited since childhood. Falsely accused of a plot to murder the president and denied a trial, he was shot by a firing squad. After forgiving his captors on the way to his execution, he stretched out his arms, Christlike, and voiced the slogan of the Catholic resistance, Viva Cristo Rey! ("Long live Christ the King!") Photos of his execution rallied the resistance. How does his courageous witness inspire you?

TODAY'S READINGS: 1 Maccabees 6:1-13; Luke 20:27-40 (502). "God not of the dead, but of the living; for to [God] all . . . are alive."

SOLEMNITY OF OUR LORD JESUS CHRIST, KING OF THE UNIVERSE

Real power doesn't grab or push

The bluster of schoolyard bullies isn't much different from the threatening words of the world's tyrants. Only the reach of their destruction sets the tyrants apart. Among the revelatory transfigurations of Jesus is how he deftly transforms divine authority into the surrendering action of a servant. While worldly powers seize and hold, Jesus shares, teaches, and heals. As bullies lash out, Jesus lays down his life and forgives his enemies. The King of the Universe makes no claim on territory or seats of grandeur. His throne is truth, and his realm, justice. Take time to honor him.

TODAY'S READINGS: 2 Samuel 5:1-3; Colossians 1:12-20; Luke 23:35-43 (162). "Are you not the Christ? Save yourselves and us."

Monday, Nov 25, 2019

MEMORIAL OF CATHERINE OF ALEXANDRIA, VIRGIN, MARTYR

A saint for the ages

Just as November begins with the feast of All Saints, it ends with examples of how the church remembers saints such as Catherine of Alexandria (c. 287-305). Iconography reminds us that she was of Egyptian royalty (often shown with a crown), and she could have used her privilege to do almost anything. She chose to immerse herself in the study of philosophy—she's often shown with books. Other symbols remind us of her fate once she was baptized at 14 and rebuked the Roman emperor for persecuting Christians. Catherine is typically depicted with a spiked wheel—a torture device said to have miraculously broken apart as the emperor first tried to execute her—along with the "palm of martyrdom" and the sword that finally beheaded her. We're all called to be saints. What symbols would adorn your holy card?

TODAY'S READINGS: Daniel 1:1-6, 8-20; Luke 21:1-4 (503). "She, from her poverty, has offered her whole livelihood."

Tuesday, Nov 26, 2019

Test the message

Jesus warned against false prophets promising salvation to those who heed their call, yet each age seems to produce its own crop of misguided messiahs. In our own time, many will remember the tragedies associated with delusional figures such as Charles Manson, David Koresh, Yahweh ben Yahweh, and Jim Jones. Be cautious with those who promise much but demand unquestioning loyalty in return. If the fruits of humility, compassion, respect, and integrity are not visible in the message, don't trust the messenger.

TODAY'S READINGS: Daniel 2:31-45; Luke 21:5-11 (504). "See that you not be deceived, for many will come in my name, saying, 'I am he,' and 'The time has come.' Do not follow them!"

Wednesday, Nov 27, 2019

I had a dream

You might wonder if God still speaks to us, as in biblical times, through our dreams. The church teaches that while we already have received the fullness of "public revelation," God can still offer us "private revelation"—guidance on our life journey or major decisions—through our dreams. But such revelations are not common—most dreams are randomly generated as part of sleep—and dreams with a message require skillful interpretation by way of prayer and reflection, and ideally with the assistance of a spiritual advisor. Pay attention to your dreams, but also test them.

TODAY'S READINGS: Daniel 5:1-6, 13-14, 16-17, 23-28; Luke 21:12-19 (505). "I have heard that you can interpret dreams and solve difficulties."

THANKSGIVING DAY

Deepen your gratitude

Research from the Greater Good Science Center at University of California, Berkeley and A Network for Grateful Living has underscored the importance of gratitude—or "reverence for what is given." Focusing our mental lens on abundance, not scarcity, can lead to dramatic improvements in health and quality of life. Dr. Robert Emmons and Brother David Steindl-Rast pioneered the field that teaches us to appreciate all experiences, whether we once labeled them "good" or "bad." Find a gratitude practice for you or your family at gratefulness.org. Try it for a week.

TODAY'S READINGS: Daniel 6:12-28; Luke 21:20-28 (506). "Stand up and raise your heads, because your redemption is drawing near."

Friday, Nov 29, 2019

God's persistent presence

Both of today's readings point toward the notion that God's kingdom persists, no matter what. Daniel presents fantastical, destructive beasts with teeth and horns and thrones of flames. But vanquishing them all is "one like a son of man" with an enduring kingship. In the gospel, Jesus reinforces the idea: the kingdom is near; his words will endure. There is comfort here for the faithful: While the world around us may be in upheaval, God's presence never fails. Allow yourself today to rest in the certainty that God's kingdom is always at hand.

TODAY'S READINGS: Daniel 7:2-14; Luke 21:29-33 (507). "Know that the kingdom of God is near."

FEAST OF ANDREW, APOSTLE

Introducing Jesus

If ever there were a patron saint of introductions—fortuitous, life-changing introductions—it would have to be Andrew. At the beginning of John's gospel, Andrew tells his brother Simon Peter, "We have found the Messiah," before introducing him to Jesus. And we all know how that turned out for Peter! Later, before Jesus performs the miracle that fed 5,000 people, it was Andrew who introduced him to the boy with two fish and five loaves. Later still, it was Andrew who was approached—on the eve of Jesus' death—when a few curious Gentiles wanted to meet Jesus. As Advent begins, consider ways that you, too, could introduce others to Christ. Like the boy with the loaves and fishes, it could be as simple as bringing food to a gathering.

TODAY'S READINGS: Romans 10:9-18; Matthew 4:18-22 (684). "They left their nets and followed him."
